

UCLA STUNT RANCH RESERVE
RESERVE RULES

The Stunt Ranch Santa Monica Mountains Reserve is open to qualified users. All use must be consistent with University objectives of education and research. With the exception of the Stunt High Trail, the Reserve is not open to the public for recreational uses such as hiking, horseback riding, mountain biking, picnicking, or rock climbing.

These rules have been designed to preserve the Reserve in a natural state for research and education and to prevent disturbance to ongoing research and educational activities. Permission to use the Reserve may be withdrawn or denied if any rules and regulations are violated. The University retains the right to add or modify the Reserve Rules at any time.

- 1) Pre-approval required for entry. Use applications for research, class use or field trips may be accessed on the Reserve website at <http://nrs.ucop.edu/reserves/stunt.html> or by calling the reserve office at 310 206-3887.
- 2) Group leaders are responsible for the behavior of their group.
- 3) Pets, including dogs, cats, and, horses are not permitted on the Reserve, except for equestrian use of the Stunt High Trail.
- 4) Reserve users shall not in any way alter the property.
- 5) Camping is not permitted.
- 6) Smoking and fires of any kind are not permitted.
- 7) Vehicles may park in designated areas only. Keep speeds to no more than 5 mph.
- 8) Firearms are not allowed on the reserve.
- 9) Care should be given not to enter marked research plots.
- 10) Leave the entrance gate as you found it (e.g. if closed and locked, close and lock it after passing).
- 11) For researchers only
 - All onsite research should be initiated only after a written application has been approved. This research approval must be renewed annually in June, in the form of a narrative letter or report providing a summary of research in the previous year and expected activities for the coming year.
 - All tags or flagging must be coordinated with Reserve manager and removed at the conclusion of the project.
 - Results of studies are expected to be incorporated into the Reserve database, as appropriate. Confidentiality of the data can be arranged. Written materials that result from work conducted at Stunt Ranch must acknowledge the Reserve. Two reprints or copies of articles, reports, or theses based on work done at the Reserve should be promptly delivered to the Reserve office, whether published or unpublished.
- 12) Notify the Reserve manager of any special needs your group may have.

I ACKNOWLEDGE THAT I HAVE READ RESERVE RULES AND THAT I AGREE TO ADHERE TO ALL RULES.
